

Home

Theatre

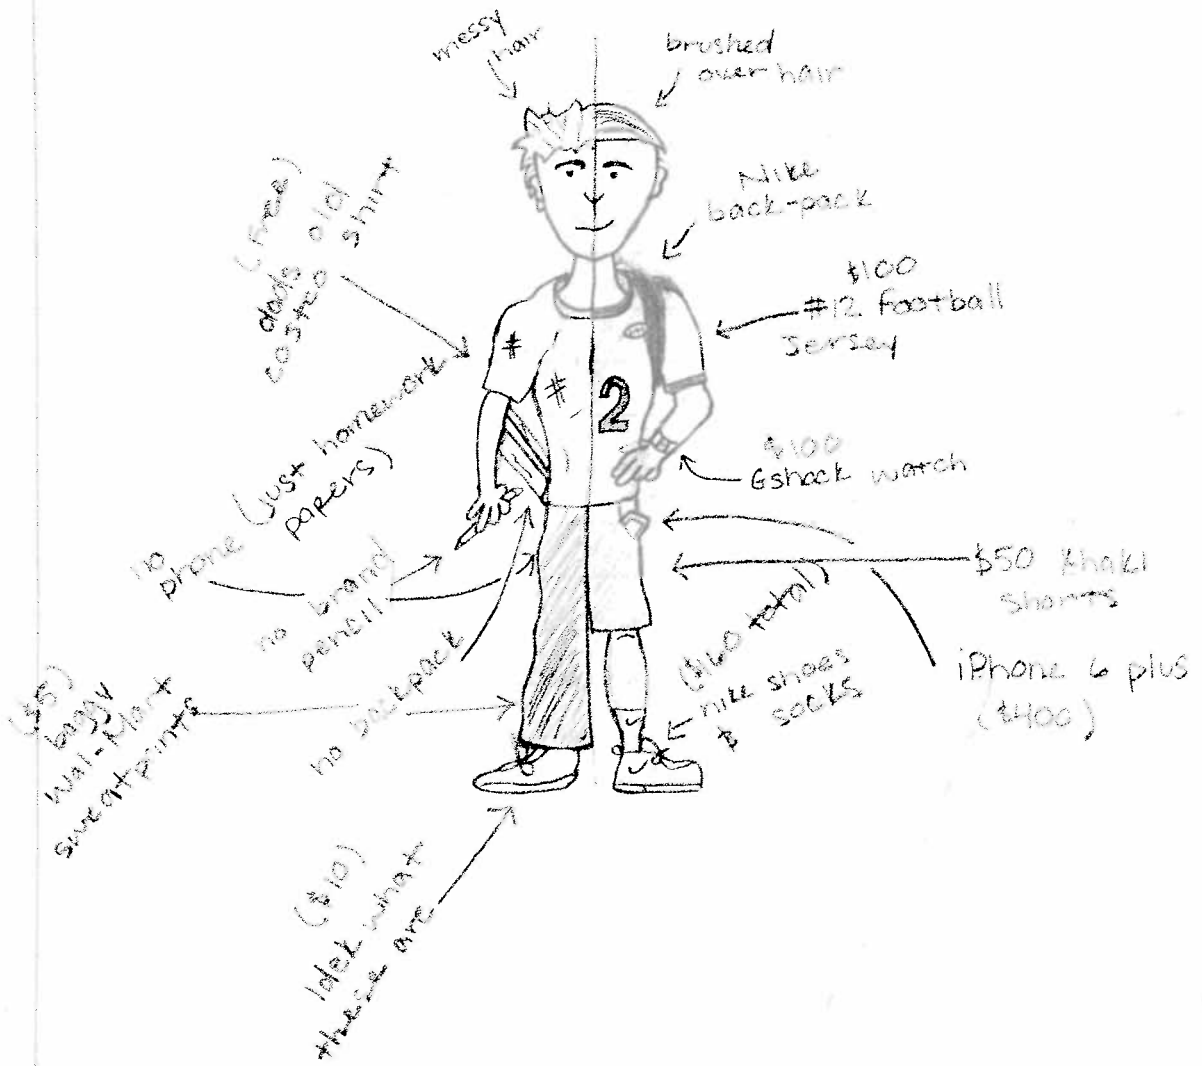

Side note:

yes, Sicilian & Italian are two different races...

hallyd orrik

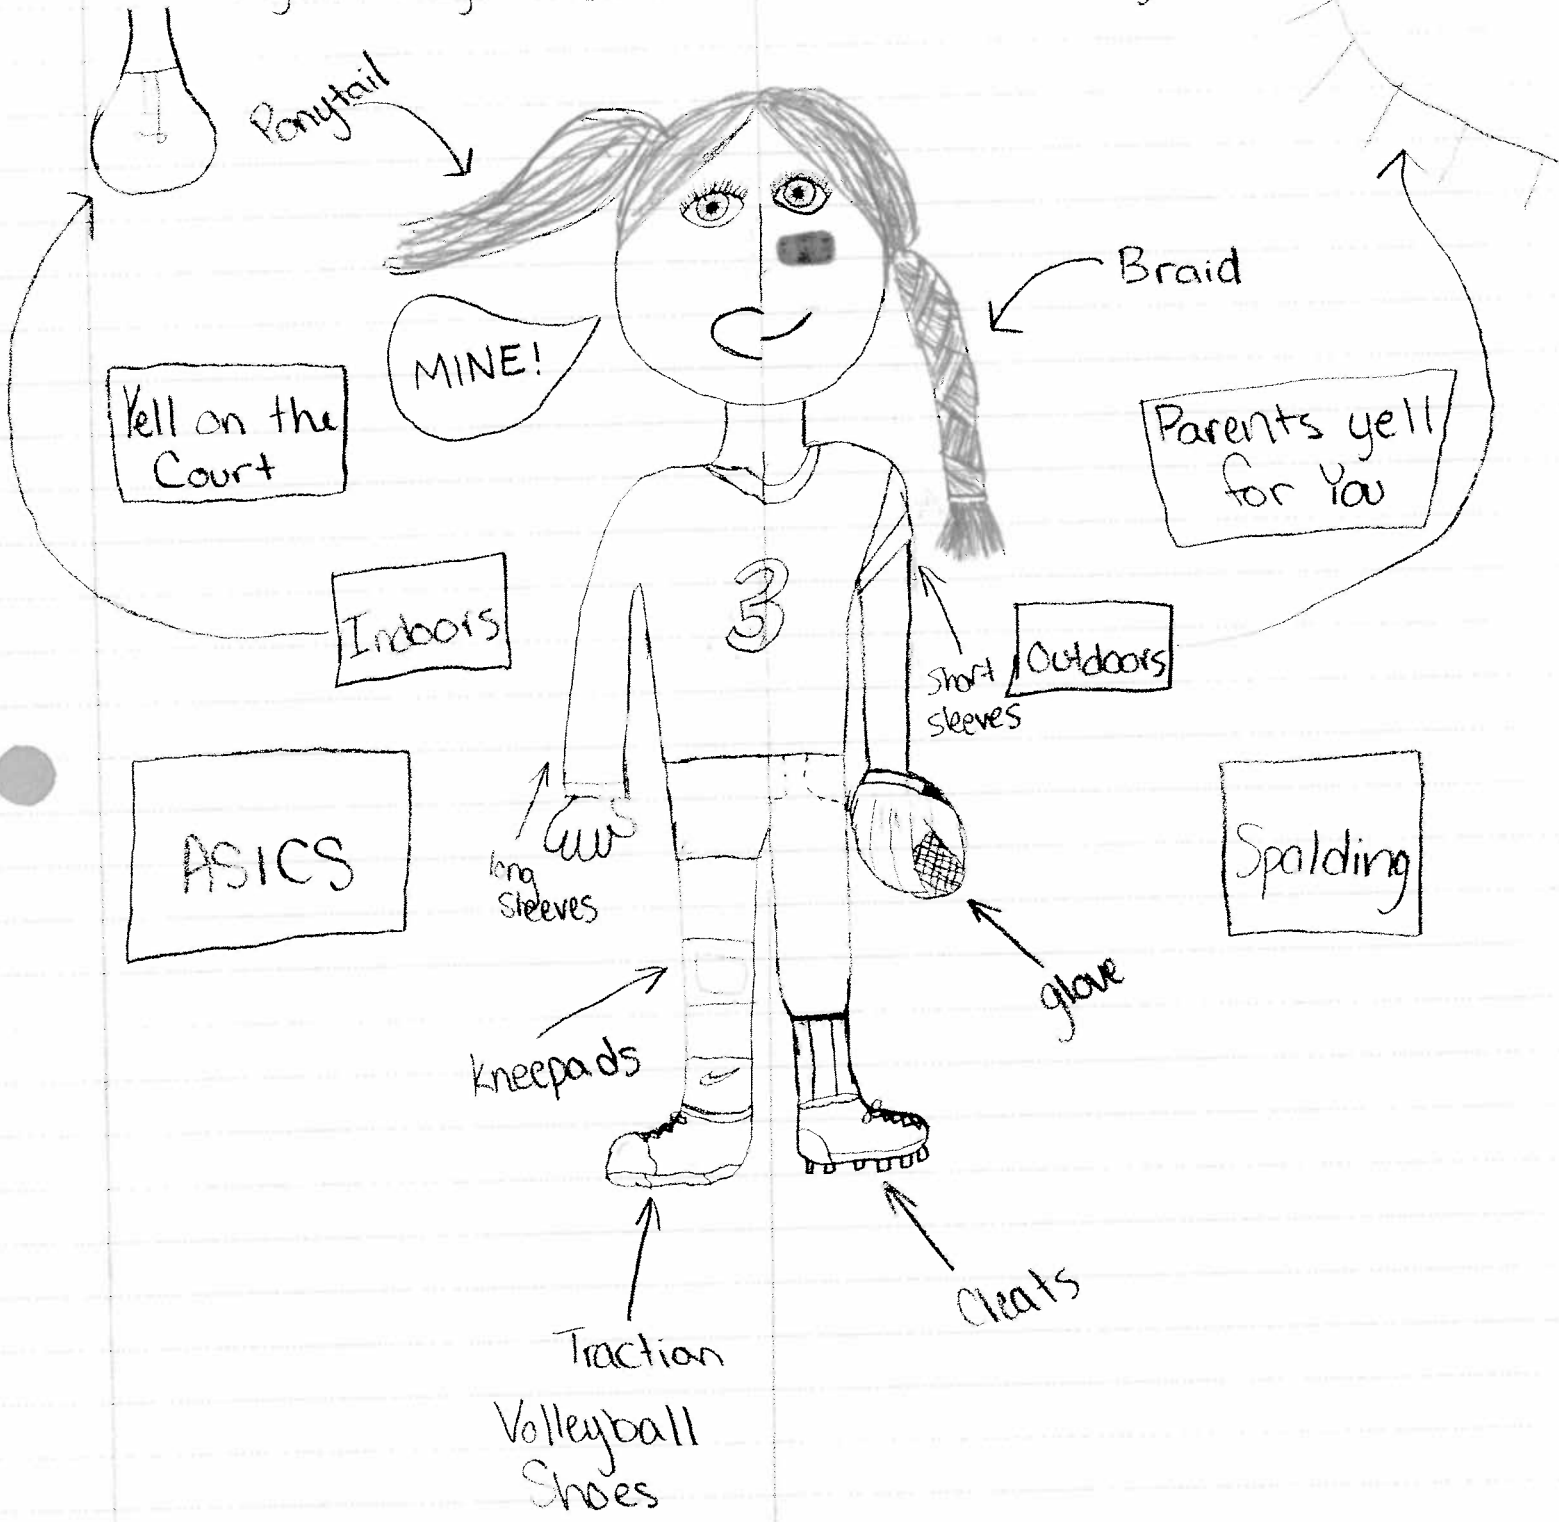

- Sister, daughter, half-sister, niece, grand-sister, best friend,
- friend, cousin, great-granddaughter
- Sicilian, American, German, Italian, Nebraskan
- Pessimist, Idealist, materialist, Introvert, Lazy, Spender, snly
- Student, dress, scientist, artist, flamnet, musician, foodie, animal bre, crazy

0/10 Can I keep this to use as an example?

Volleyball Player

Softball Player

I am a volleyball player because I play on a volleyball team. I am part of a team not just dependent on myself. If I mess up, I mess up the game for my whole team. I play volleyball competitively.

I am a softball player because I play on a softball team. I always am ready to play. I try not to let my team down. I help them win. If I mess up I let down my team.

These two labels conflict each other because they are different. Softball is out in the sun, and volleyball in under lights. Volleyball and Softball are at the same time in the year so it is hard to choose which one I will play that year. They are different also because one is constantly switching from offense to defense, and the other you are switching after a certain amount of time or outs. I love them both but sometimes it is hard to choose.

hang up your drawing on the bulletin board? I can remove your name. 😊